

WILL BE EVENT HIGH JINKS OF THE ELKS

IT WILL BE A BLOW-OUT THAT WILL BE LONG RE-MEMBERED.

Tonopah Elks are going to formally open their new club rooms next Tuesday evening.

The committee having the affair in charge calls it a book social and high jinks party.

"Book social" means that all are requested to bring a book, or as many books as they wish, as a contribution to the Tonopah Elks' library. The name of the donor will be placed in each book.

"High jinks" means many things, and many things will be pulled off at Tuesday evening's opening. The new hardwood floor in the lodge room will be dedicated and the Elks and their wives and mothers, daughters and lady friends will trip the light fantastic to the strains of dulcet music and to their hearts' content.

There will be no extensive literary or musical program, but some informal and unique stunts have been promised. Dr. Grigsby has been asked to put on a German classic, and Mrs. Hugh Brown is going to give the Elks and their ladies the benefit of some of her experiences in Europe last summer, especially in relation to the great Passion Play at Oberammergau.

Something will be doing every minute, either in the lodge room or the club rooms. Brother Perry has consented to render a violin solo or two between the dances, and Brother McIntosh will deliver the 11 o'clock toast. When one gets tired dancing, you can go in the club rooms and play pool or billiards or cards, or inspect the library. The committee promises that no one will go hungry or thirsty. On account of limited banquet space the invitations are limited to the Elks and their lady relatives and friends. Visiting Elks are all invited.

COOGAN RECEIVES NEWS OF DEATH

CARSON CITY, Nev., Jan. 19.—Harry Coogan of Esmeralda county, who Monday was appointed assistant minute clerk of the senate, last night received a telegram from New York which stated that his father had died suddenly in that city.

Owing to the fact that Coogan would not be able to reach New York in time to attend the funeral and that his duties are such as to prevent him leaving, Mr. Coogan will not go East.

The deceased was one of the well-known politicians in New York City.

LOCKED DOORS BARRED OUT MISS GOLDMAN

By Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, Ohio Jan. 19.—Considerable stir is created among the United Mine Workers of America today by the locking out of Emma Goldman from Memorial hall. The convention was in session.

She appeared in response to a request from about 150 delegates, made after adjournment last night, to speak before the convention today.

The custodian of the hall locked the doors, saying he did so under orders. Miss Goldman spoke in another hall.

INTERRUPTED SERVICE SOUTHERN WASHINGTON

By Associated Press.
PORTLAND, Jan. 19.—Although the incessant rains of the past sixty hours have practically ceased, the high-water condition of southern Washington and the Willamette valley continues to interrupt train service from California. Railroad traffic in every direction is in bad shape, owing to washouts. Telegraph and telephone communication is interrupted.

GETS ABOUT FOUR DOZEN EGGS DAILY

ONE LOCAL MAN WHO BELIEVES HENS WILL LAY IF TREATED RIGHT.

It is hard to convince some people in Tonopah that there is any money in the chicken business, nor will they concede there is any fun in monkeying around poultry, either. But, on the other hand, there is at least one man who seems to be enjoying some success in the business.

Louis Stratton, who conducts the Hasbrouck lodging-house on Florence avenue, has 140 chickens of the white Leghorn variety—all hens and pullets. Of these about 75 are laying, the daily egg receipts being between three and four dozen.

At the present price of eggs—Mr. Stratton sells all his for 65c—this gives about $2.50 a day in cash receipts, or $75 a month. It costs about 75c a day, or $22.50 a month, for feed, leaving a net cash profit on the business of something over $50 a month. Beside this, there are the sales of chickens for the market, broilers averaging 75c apiece.

Mr. Stratton gets all his young chickens from Petaluma, and they cost from $7.55 to $8.50 a hundred, depending on the price of eggs, with the expressage ($1.50) added. They are shipped when they are less than a day old. The youngsters are never fed the first forty-eight hours after incubation, and they stand shipment better at this time than any other. Mr. Stratton sells off the young roosters when they reach the broiling stage and keeps the pullets.

Mr. Stratton keeps his poultry in covered pens made of planking. These pens are about 8 feet long by 3 in width, and some 18 inches in depth, with two nests at one end. The plank top may be raised or lowered at will, and thus in inclement weather the chickens are kept comfortable. A screen, of course, keeps the poultry confined when the movable top is raised. The hens lay better when not over eight are kept in a pen, though Mr. Stratton has as many as fourteen in some of his. He has fifteen pens altogether.

The chickens are fed twice a day, and every care is taken to keep their water supply clean. Under these circumstances, Mr. Stratton argues chickens will do as well here as any place. It is certain that an income of $60 to $75 a month from a business that requires no more attention than this is not to be sneezed at.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 19.—The joint ballot for United States senator today again resulted in no choice.

MISERY IN FRANCE AMONG WINE WORKERS

Into the Streets--A Waste of Champagne.

By Associated Press.
PARIS, Jan. 19.—Wine riots in the Champagne district are seriously engaging the attention of the government, which today decided to dispatch troops to end the troubles, as the local authorities are helpless.

Last night 2000 men and women, carrying revolutionary banners, marched into Hauteville, broke into several wine cellars and poured the contents into the streets until the thoroughfare was a running river.

Champagne and thousands of bottles of other wines were emptied into a creek.

Poor crops and small wages are causing misery among the wine workers.

JEALOUSY LEADS TO CRIME.

PORT WORTH, Texas, Jan. 19.—While Mrs. T. M. Brooks was killing Mrs. Mary Binfold in a crowded department store yesterday afternoon, women of the First Methodist church were at Mrs. Brooks' home holding a prayer meeting.

A telephone call to the house announcing the killing was the only explanation they had of her absence.

This developed today, when T. M. Brooks issued a statement, saying jealousy was the cause of the killing. He defended the character of the dead woman as well as that of his wife.

DEMOCRATS INTEND BILLS BE RUSHED

CARSON CITY, Jan. 19.—Last evening the Democratic members of both houses met in caucus and agreed upon a steering committee that would see that Democratic legislation was rushed through both houses without delay, in conformity with their party platform. It was also agreed upon who should introduce the bills and take care of them on their course through the legislature. Other matters were discussed, and it is expected that some startling developments may be expected within the next few days.

The committee on rules will render its report today and Speaker Frolich will appoint the permanent committees.

RICH STRIKES IN MANHATTAN AND TONOPAH

PICTURE ROCK ON THANKSGIVING—$200 ORE ON CALIFORNIA.

This week a rich strike has been made here in Tonopah, and also one in Manhattan.

The local one is made on the California claim, in the western part of the town, not far from the gas house. The property is under lease to Smith, Lynch and Keyes, and the other day, while crosscutting, they uncovered a ledge that gives assay returns of $290 a ton. It is said. The lessees are convinced they have a good thing.

The strike at Manhattan was made on the Thanksgiving. No values are stated in the report which reached here, but the ore is what is termed "picture rock" by miners. The leasers are confident they have a big thing.

A rumor was current in local mining circles yesterday that a big strike was made on the Montana the other day. A seven-foot ledge was revealed, which, it is said, carries high values.

A RAVIOLA BLOW-OUT WHICH WAS A TREAT

There was a raviola blow-out at the Torene restaurant last evening in which a number of young men about town were implicated. The feed was one that will be remembered by those present.

Piano selections by Harry Ward, songs by Messrs. McIntosh, Blair and Evans, and impromptu witticisms made the occasion a "feast of reason and a flow of soul."

Raviolas are an Italian delicacy, the secret of which is kept inviolate. Christopher Columbus is said to have enjoyed them on his caravel, the Santa Maria, coming over this way a few years ago, and the recipe in vogue in Tonopah is the one Chris used. Anyway, his name is signed to it.

CHANCE TO LAUGH AT BUTLER TONIGHT

The program at the Butler for this evening is a good one, consisting of three subjects, all of them features. As usual, Mr. Grosch will sing another up-to-date song.

The subjects of the pictures for tonight are: "Her First Husband's Return" (drama), "The Widow of Mill Creek Flat," a comedy of the rough-house type, ending in a hard chase, with the widow steadily gaining on her new spouse, who basely deserted her; "Reggie's Engagement," a snappy comedy representing the difficulty into which Reggie is plunged when he exchanged suitcases with Mike, and when he went into it for the wed-

PORTANT MINING DEAL AT MANHATTAN

C. A. CHAPMAN SELLS OUT HIS INTEREST IN BIG FOUR LEASE.

An important mining deal has just been concluded at Manhattan in the disposal of Cecil A. Chapman of his third interest in the Steen-Chapman-Peak lease on the Big Four property—one of the biggest things in the camp.

The sale is made to his former partners, with the addition of the vendor's brother, Fred Chapman. So the firm title will remain as before. The consideration is not stated.

Cecil Chapman is now in Tonopah, and he says the lease is looking better every day. They are down 220 feet on the shaft, and are taking out ore on a 14-inch ledge that runs $40 a ton.

The last mill run from this property was made the latter part of November, when 414 tons were treated at the War Eagle. The returns were $67 a ton, or a total of over $26,000. The milling charges were $6.50 a ton.

Cecil Chapman is still interested in the booming of the northern camp. He recently bought a third interest in the Pierce-Larsen lease, on which a rich strike was recently made.

DON'T SMOKE IN BED, IT'S A COSTIVE HABIT

If you are in the habit of smoking in bed you ought to quit it—it's an expensive practice. So the city editor of the Bonanza found when he went to his room last evening, and discovered that four quilts and a spread on the bed had a hole burned through them, in which a barrel could be inserted. He had simply spilled some ashes from his pipe on the bedclothes when he had left the room several hours before.

Today he patronized one of the big special sales in town.

INAUGURAL BALL PLANS ARE NOW ABOUT READY

MOTHER OF CHIEF EXECUTIVE WILL ACCOMPANY SON AT GRAND MARCH.

CARSON CITY, Jan. 19.—Carson City is making elaborate arrangements for the entertaining of the people of Nevada at the grand inaugural ball that will take place Friday evening in the opera house at this place.

The ball room proper will be completely transformed, with pink, green and white, as the color scheme. Vines and strands of smilax, concealing frosted incandescent lights, are strung at regular intervals, while many of the lights are artistically decorated with pink shades. White streamers, starting at the ceiling and terminating on the walls, form a very pretty effect. In the center of the ceiling a huge bell of smilax will be hung. This will be brilliantly illuminated with frosted lights, as will the clapper.

Governor Oddie and his mother will lead the grand march, according to a statement made a few days ago by the state's chief executive.
